Alberta to Study Bank Act.

Premier Greenfield has declared his intention of having his Government appoint some person specially qualified to make particular study of the Bank Act of Canada.

When proposed amendments to this Act come up in the Federal House, at Ottawa, the Alberta Government proposes to make its own presentations as to any amendments it thinks necessary for the protection of the interests of this Province.

As to the person to be appointed, Premier Greenfield said that no decision had been reached. Unofficially, it is understood that the choice will probably fall on George Bevington, the well-known authority on banking.

Potatoes Not in Demand.

Potato growers are still looking for a market, and dealers do not see much chance of getting cars under way, even if weather conditions were such that shipping might be done to advantage says the Calgary Market Examiner. Dealers and market superintendents all say they are getting a number of inquiries from country dealers and growers asking for offers, but there are very few being made. Any buying is on a basis of $18 to $20 at Calgary.

Vancouver dealers are still quoting their interior stocks at $40. There are some potatoes from the coast province coming over and being handled in Alberta.

How to Grow "Wiltshire"

Sides.

Mr Wm Gilbert, the well-known breeder, who returned last week from the East, represented the Alberta Association at the meeting in Toronto of the delegates to the Dominion Convention.

The sessions were well attended, and Mr Gilbert was well pleased with the attention he received as the representative from Alberta.

Some of the things which Mr Gilbert supported were: Reduction in freight and express rates. These questions have now been taken up by the Ontario Government and the Eastern Livestock Union.

Government grading of hogs was the chief business under discussion, as hogs will be graded at stockyards and plants.

Mr Gilbert very strongly pointed out that, in Alberta, grading must be done at larger country points; and the farmers must be paid the ten per cent as near home as possible.

A Government representative suggested that this could be done by having a grader at country points, to be selected by the farmers.

In case of a buyer and seller not agreeing as to the grade, a Government grader will be sent out to determine the grade.

The farmer has a lot to do with getting the ten per cent on the Wiltshire class; feeding hogs at right time to right weight and marketing as soon as they reach the Wiltshire grade and weight.

Here is a comparison—Where a bacon-bred hog will not grade Wiltshire; if a pig has grown too large before finishing he will not have the even flesh at the proper weight; while a bacon hog over fat will not grade No. 1 Wiltshire; then it will be possible for farmers with medium length grades, to get No. 1 by careful feeding and growing to reach the weight before they develop too much fat.

While in Toronto, Mr Gilbert attended demonstrations at the packing plant of the William Davies Company, of killing and dressing every grade of hog and cutting out the Wiltshire sides, to be forwarded to England.

Mr Gilbert is thus eminently fitted to demonstrate the particulars of grading the bacon hogs.

Stimulants for Flu Patients.

At the meeting last week of ratepayers of Liberty M. D., held in Ledue, Dr Woods said he did not believe in fines to bring about an observance of the Public Health Act as much as in educating the people to obey the Quarantine laws and thus lessen the risk of contagion. The Doctor instanced several cases, at the time of the flu epidemic in 1918, in which he prescribed stimulants for patients, where they were supplied with veterinary whisky.

As a result of the discussion created by the Doctor's statement and the present prohibitive prices of liquor for the poor, the following resolution was proposed, seconded, and passed unanimously:—

That in case Liberty District be afflicted with another flu epidemic, that the Provincial Government be requested to supply pure stimulants to patients at cost on the recommendation of the attending physician.

An Advantage Lost.

It seems now to be fairly certain that Hon. Charles Stewart is not to have an Alberta seat. The Progressive members, in declining to make place for him, have, of course acted within their strictly legal rights, but the fact remains that through their adherence to the hold what we have doctrine the province has lost a privilege that would naturally have worked out to the advantage of all.

Breach-of-Promise Case.

There are big doings billed for Schwindt's Hall, in Spruce Grove, on the evening of Friday, March 10th, a breach of promise case coming up for a hearing, when the fair plaintiff, Miss Dolly Perkins, of Clymont, will sue D Casey, of Graminia, for fifty thousand dollars.

The case will be tried before a judge and jury. The young lady's case will be ably handled by such eminent jurists as John McKinlay, B.Sc. A., and Peter McPhee; while the defendant will be represented by Bob Bauerlin and John Metcalf.

The whole affair will be staged under the auspices of Spruce Grove Local of the United Farmers. The play will be preceded by a good concert.

While refreshments are being served there will be a talk-together among members, followed by a selection on the mouth organ by Joe Guenette, and a selection on the bagpipes by Mr Ferguson Smith. The proceeds will be in aid of the Local's funds.

DAUGHTER HAD TO HELP MOTHER

Now Can Do All Her Housework
Alone Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Jasper, Minn. — "I saw in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took it because I was having such pains in my stomach and through my back that I could not do my work. I had tried other medicines, but none did me the good that your Vegetable Compound did. Now I am able to do all my work alone while before I had my daughter staying at home to do it. I have told a number of friends what it has done for me and give you permission to use my letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. Jessie Peterson, Route 1, Jasper, Minn.

There is no better reason for your trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound than this—it helped other women. So if you suffer from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or are passing through Change of Life remember this splendid medicine. What it did for Mrs. Peterson it may do for you.

The Vegetable Compound stands upon a foundation of nearly fifty years of service.

And then, quite unexpected, it came upon her, and thrilled her frame from toe to temple. Jim Travers! It had been in the background of her mind for months, the centre of the subconscious processes which culminated in this revelation. Yes, Fred Arthur at twenty-five must have been such a man as Jim Travers. Jim Travers at fifty would be such a man as Fred Arthur. She was absolutely sure of it. Jim was living his life, seeking out that which was worth while, calling the incidental from the essential, just as Fred Arthur must have done. She remembered with sudden joy how Jim had held a little kindness to her of greater moment than the impatient engine in the plough-field; the scores of little labours he had undertaken, not as a sacrifice, but as a privilege—as his contribution to human happiness. She

Appetite Good, Gained 20 lbs. Could Not Feel Better

From a nervous wreck this man was restored to health, strength and happiness.

He tells his own story in this letter.

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts,
Loverna, Sask., writes:

"In 1917 I had lost all appetite, failed 25 pounds in weight, became very nervous and shaky and in fact given up all hope of recovery. For some time I had suffered from constipation, which kept getting worse, until I was fast becoming a total wreck. Doctors and their drugs were sending me to my grave at the age of 39.

"Then I read about people being restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and after three months' use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I found that my bowels were restored to normal movement each day and the constipation was no more. I had a good appetite, had gained 20 pounds and could not feel better. I shall always be grateful for these benefits."

would marry Jim Travers. The strange part of it was her sudden certainty that she should marry him. She found herself enveloped in a flame of possession, a feeling that he was hers—hers now, this minute, and hers forever. Beulah was a fatalist although she had never analyzed her own beliefs enough to know it, but she knew that Destiny had linked her life with his and that Destiny would not be balked. Her mind had been feeling its way through the darkness of months, to this sudden ecstasy, but now that she had reached it she felt that she had never lived. It was a sense of possession, of mergement, was complete; she felt that already their souls had mingled irrevocably and indistinguishably.

The arrival of her mother at the Arthurs' ranch had brought fresh joy to Beulah's life. She saw the colour coming back to the old face, the frame straightening up a little, the light rekindling in the eye, the spring returning to the instep. She had not thought that her mother, after twenty-five years of unprotesting submission, had still the nerve to place a limit on that submission, and the discovery had surprised and delighted her. True, Mary Harris felt she knew that she was only on a visit, and in due course would return to her home; but Beulah knew the tie had been cast, and things could never again be quite as they were. And Beulah told her secret, and her mother just kissed her and let a tear or two fall in her hair.

So this morning, as the girl stretched her young limbs, rounding her waist and energy, and the burnt-orange glow of sunrise suffused the room and it felt the sun's rays on her flesh, she let her mind dwell on the picture she carried in her brain, until the association became too keen any longer, and she was overwhelmed by her tenderness; then she sprang from her bed, and, flipping the window-blind to the top, drank in the beauty of the valley through the open windows. Her bedroom had windows both to the east and the west; and it was her custom to awaken early and feast on the glory as it surged up the valley, and then, turning, watch the long waves of light sink slowly down the white mountains. And this morning, when she thought the first beams must be gliding the highest peaks, she turned to the westward window and saw the light playing under a Chinook arch across a segment of sky so soft and near she could almost feel it with extended fingers. And then a sound caught her ear, and up the trail she saw two men on horseback, a mounted policeman and another, and behind them other men driving in a bewy.

By intuition Beulah knew that a mishap had occurred. The Arthurs' ranch was the first abode of real civilization on the way out from the mountains, and it was nothing unusual for a lumberman with a chopped foot, or a prospector caught in sliding rock, or a river-driver crushed between logs, or a hunter the victim of his own marksmanship, to come limping or riding down the trail to this haven of first aid. Quickly she drew on her simple clothing and hurried downstairs, but Arthur was already at the door. The little party came into the yard, and the policeman rode up to the door. The other horseman sat with his back to the house; his hands were chained together in front of him.

"Good-morning, Sergeant Grey," said Arthur. "You're early out. The sergeant saluted. The salutation was intended for Arthur, but at the moment the policeman's eyes fell on Beulah, and even the discipline of the Force could not prevent a momentary turning of the head.

"I've a badly hurt man here," he said, "a man who will need your hospitality and care for some days. There was a shooting up the valley last night. His father is here, too, unhurt, physically, but on the verge of collapse, if I am not mistaken."

"We will bring both of them in at once," said Arthur. "Beulah, will you call Lillian, and your mother, too? They may be needed. But who is the third?" he continued, turning to Grey.

"A prisoner. It seems the older man overpowered him. Now let us get this poor fellow in."

The policeman beckoned and Harris drove the buggy up to the door. Arthur glanced at him with a casual "Good-morning," but the next instant his eyes were riveted on the visitor. "John Harris!" he exclaimed, taking a great stride forward and extending his strong arm. "Man, John, I'm glad to see you, but not in these trappings."

Harris took his hand in a silent clasp, and there was a warmth in it that set his heart beating as it had not for years. "It's hard, Fred," he managed to say in a dry voice, "but it's good to have you by."

Arthur bent over Allan, who was half sitting, half lying, in the buggy. His face was sapped and grey in the growing light. Tenderly the three men lifted him out. "Take him straight upstairs," said Arthur. "It will save moving him again." Both spare-rooms in the house were occupied, but Arthur led the way into Beulah's, and they laid the wounded boy on the white bed.

Arthur heard Beulah in the hall. "Take off his clothes, Grey," he said, and turned to the doorway. "Where's your mother, Beulah?" he asked in a low voice, closing the bedroom door behind him.

USEFUL FOR OVER 500 PURPOSES

Gillett's Lye can be used for so many purposes that their enumeration here would be impossible. For example, Gillett's Lye can be used for making soap, in washing dishes, also as a disinfectant. For softening hard water. As a means of removing grease and smoke stains. These are only a few of its many uses, but they serve to indicate what has made Gillett's Lye such a general household utility to-day.

"Dressing." The girl looked in his face, and drew back with a cry. "What's the matter, Uncle Fred? What's wrong?"

"A friend of mine has been hurt, and an old friend of your mother's. She must not see him just now. You will arrange that?"

"Yes. But I must see him—I must help."

Beulah hurried to the room where her mother was rapidly dressing. "A man has been hurt, mother," she said, with suppressed excitement. "We need hot water. Will you start a fire in the range?"

Mary Harris mistook Beulah's emotion for natural sympathy over a suffering creature, and hurried to the kitchen. Mrs. Arthur was whispering with her husband in the hall, but a moment later joined Mary at the range.

Then Beulah entered the room. The policeman was speaking to Arthur. "I must go into town now with my prisoner," he was saying. "I will send out a doctor at once, and in the meantime I know you will do everything possible."

Beulah turned her eyes to the bed. A man was lying there, and an old man was sitting beside it. At the second gland she recognized him, but in an instant she had herself under control. She walked with a steady step to the bed and looked for a full minute in her brother's face. Then she looked at her father.

Government Said To Be Considering Plans For New Wheat Board

Ottawa.—While consideration of the proposal has not yet reached that stage where it is possible to give any indication as to the course which may be laid down by the Government, it is understood that the matter of re-establishing a Canadian wheat board has been receiving serious attention at the hands of Premier King and his colleagues.

In the west the feeling is stated to be at the present time in favor of the re-establishment of such a board and the Cabinet is expected to reach a decision on the matter between now and the time the House meets.

Together with the question of wheat board, the matter of continuing the grain trade enquiry is understood to be under consideration. One of the suggestions which has been put forward, it is understood, is that the grain enquiry shall continue but that it will be carried on by a reconstituted board.

CUTICURA HEALS ITCHY SCALP

Was Sore and Red. Hair Fell Out. Head Disfigured.

"From using the same brush and comb as my sister, whose scalp was troubled with dandruff, I caught my scalp to be itchy. My scalp was sore and red, and the dandruff scaled off and could be seen on my clothing. My hair fell out gradually and my head was disfigured. This trouble lasted six months. Then I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I afterwards bought more, and I only used two cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment when I was healed." YOU CAN GET 150 MORE
FOR A BUSHEL OF WHEAT

That Is What You Can Do Provided You Take Advantage of Our Offer

We have made arrangements with the E. H. Heath Co. Limited who publish the CANADIAN POWER FARMER whereby we are able to offer that farm magazine together with our own weekly at the one price for both papers.

The CANADIAN POWER FARMER is Western Canada's biggest farm monthly. It is now in its twentieth year which means that it is thoroughly established throughout the West. It deals with the mechanical side of the farm. Every issue is full of helpful hints and experiences on the operation of all kinds of farm machinery from a washing-machine to a tractor. Its editor has just completed a trip to several months over Western Canada in a motor car for the purpose of studying the mechanical needs of the farmers. He visited the farmers, lived with them and worked with them. The results of his trip will appear during the next twelve months.

This offer may be withdrawn at any time. Without doubt your intention is to renew for this weekly, then why not take advantage now. Your subscription to this weekly together with a year's subscription to THE CANADIAN POWER FARMER for the same price as this weekly alone. This is where you make $1.50 on a bushel of wheat.

Mail your cheque or drop into our office the first time you are in town.

Cover up Unsightly Walls

All the cracks and discolored wall paper on old walls and ceilings can be quickly covered up with large durable panels of Beaver Board. You can do this work yourself and the best part of it is, you'll never have the job to do again. Once up Beaver Board is always there. Solid, firm, beautifully decorated walls and ceilings.

We have some very instructive literature that's yours for the asking.

ATLAS LUMBER CO., Stony Plain

Magazine Guns Disapproved.

Does the pump gun cause more destruction of the game birds than the old double-barreled shotgun

There was a lengthy discussion in the Legislature recently on this point, when the members unanimously passed a protest to the Dominion Government against the federal order-in-council prohibiting more than two shots in the magazine of a pump gun beside the shot in the barrel.

The regulation was put into effect under the Migratory Birds Treaty between Canada and the U.S., and was made to apply to Alberta alone.

A Handy Calendar.

The Stony Plain Pharmacy is issuing calendars published by Rexall Drug Stores, that are among the best yet. On the face of the calendar are given, along with the figures, the phases of the moon and the weather forecasts, while on the back of each month are blanks for farm and household records—milk records, egg records, farm and household expenses, farm receipts, and some very useful information. The back card of the calendar is printed on both sides and contains a wealth of information—a blank form for making an inventory of your belongings, health and household hints, weight and measures, farm tables, first aid hints and many others. It also includes the regular information generally looked for on the first pages of the family almanac.

Accident at Carvel.

A very sad accident occurred on the Sabotaski farm, in the Carvel district, on Monday, Feb. 21, when Mr. Mike Ponlak, a man aged 60 years, received injuries from which he may not recover. While working around a sawing outfit his clothing caught in the flywheel of the engine, throwing him down, breaking his left arm and his right arm in two places; his collarbone was broken, and all his ribs on his ribs on the right side were fractured. Dr. Jones attended to the injured man, after which he was removed to the General Hospital in Edmonton, where the X ray was used. It is feared that the shock will have fatal results.
